

Photograph Album

A photograph of a church with a tall, green-roofed spire, surrounded by trees and a green lawn with white flowers in the foreground. The church is made of brick and has a crenellated roofline. The foreground is a lush green lawn with several clumps of white daffodils. A wooden fence runs across the middle ground. The background is filled with various trees, some with bare branches and others with green leaves. The sky is a clear, pale blue.
